    1. By automated decision-making processes, we mean a set of activities for the collection and processing of Data relating to the Data Subject that are used to provide personalized services to the same, and which take place through processes that do not require human intervention.
    2. This type of profiling activity takes place exclusively within the scope of the purposes described in this document and only for what concerns the Data referred to in point 4.
    3. This Application uses automated decision-making processes to the extent that it is necessary to conclude or execute a contract between the Data Subject and the Data Controller, but also with the explicit consent of the Data Subject depending on the Data processed.
    4. Automated decision-making processes allow the Data Controller to improve the decision-making process regarding the provision of particular services, thus ensuring fair and impartial treatment to Users.
    5. In this way, it is also possible to reduce the potential damage resulting from human error, or other similar circumstances that could lead to discrimination or imbalances in the treatment of individuals.
    6. To obtain further information on the purposes, any third-party services and on the specific logic of the automated decision-making processes adopted by this Application, the interested party may exercise the rights referred to in point 9. of this document.
7. Transfer of Data outside of the EEA
    1. The Data Controller may transfer the Data collected to a third country (not part of the European Union) only if that country guarantees an adequate level of protection and on the condition that the Data Subjects have enforceable rights and effective remedies. In this case, the transfer does not require specific authorizations from the Data Subject.

a. the Data Subject has explicitly consented to the transfer in question, after having been duly informed of the possible risks;
b. the transfer is necessary for the conclusion or execution of a contract between the Data Controller and another natural or legal person in favour of the Data Subject;
c. the transfer is necessary for important reasons of public interest;
d. the transfer is necessary to ascertain, exercise or defend a right in court;
e. the transfer is necessary to protect the vital interests of the interested party or other persons if the interested party is physically or legally incapable of giving his consent.

8. Data Retention Period
   1. The Data will be processed and stored for the time required by the purposes for which they were collected. Therefore:
      a. the Personal Data collected for purposes related to the execution of a contract between the Owner and the User will be retained until the execution of this contract is completed;
      b. the Personal Data collected for purposes related to the legitimate interest of the Data Controller will be retained until this interest is satisfied. The User can obtain further information regarding the legitimate interest pursued by the Owner in the relevant sections of this document or by contacting the Owner;
      c. when the processing is based on the User's consent, the Data Controller may keep the Personal Data longer, or until such consent is revoked;
      d. a longer period of Data retention may be imposed by requests made by the Public Administration or by a Judicial, Government or Regulatory Authority;
   2. At the end of the retention period, the Personal Data will be deleted. Therefore, at the end of this term, the right of access, cancellation, rectification, portability and any other right connected to them can no longer be exercised.
