Voice Recording/Video call access and Microphone Permission

In our app, we've implemented a unique and convenient way for you to ask questions and interact with Astrologers in your chat — by recording your voice as audio. Instead of typing out your queries, you also have an option to simply speak into your device's microphone, record the voice as audio, and then send it on chat. This audio interaction feature is designed to make using our app more intuitive and in tune with natural communication.

To enable you to record your questions and thoughts in your own voice as audio, we need to request access to your device's microphone. When you grant us this permission, it allows our app to capture the sound of your voice as audio and convert it into digital data that we can process.

The recorded audio files are stored securely in compliance with our security standards and will be deleted after a reasonable period of time unless otherwise required for legal or regulatory purposes.

While Astrotalk also facilitates audio and video interactions, it is not responsible for any content, advice, or actions that occur during these sessions.
