1. Poppo Privacy Protection Summary

Thank you for using our products and services! We respect your concerns about privacy and appreciate your trust and confidence in us.
Here is a summary of the information contained in this privacy policy. This summary is to help you navigate the privacy policy and it is not a substitute for reading everything! You can use the hyperlinks below to jump directly to particular sections.

1.1 What information do you need to provide to Poppo?

If you register an account to use Poppo then we will need some information from you to set this up (e.g., to set up a profile and validate your phone number). To set up your account, we will need a nickname, your mobile number, and a password. You can further refine and populate your profile with additional information. If you use the services available within Poppo (such as posting photos to your Moments and Time Capsule or following Official Accounts), we will process information to allow the services to operate.

1.2 How will we use your information?

We use your information to provide Poppo to you, allow you to communicate with other users, and to use the features of the Poppo Open Platform. We use your information for account set-up, to facilitate communications, provide support, allow you to access features of Poppo , and to improve Poppo. Poppo uses contact channels provided by you, such as mobile number or email address, for verifying and protecting your account and for important administrative reasons and does not use these channels for promotional or marketing reasons.

We do not share your information with any third parties, except where we need to in order to provide the service (e.g., use SMS service providers for account validation; for mapping services; for other point-of-interest services; using our affiliates around the world to help us to deliver Poppo) or if we are instructed to by a court, authority or compelled by law. We use these third party services solely to process or store your information for the purposes described in this policy. Any third party (selected by us) with whom we share user data is required to provide the same or equal protection of user data as stated in this policy.

1.4 Where do we process your data?

Our servers are located in Singapore. We also have support, engineering and other teams that support the provision of Poppo to you, located around the world. Your data may be accessed from such locations. Rigorous internal control measures are undertaken to strictly limit access to your data by designated team members.

1.5 How long will we keep your data?

The retention period we retain your information depends on the type of information . For example, login data is kept for up to 90 days from the date of collection. If you contact us to delete your Poppo account, we will delete your information within 60 days of verifying ownership of your account or receiving your account deletion request, whichever is later.
How do I exercise my rights over my data?
Depending on where you live, you may have special rights over your data and how we can use it. These include how you can access the data, erasing the data, restricting how your data can be used, objecting to its use, and getting a copy of your information.

If there are any significant changes to this Privacy Policy, we will update the policy here and notify you before the change becomes effective.

1. Purpose of Collecting Facial Data:
Our app collects facial data through the device's camera for the following purposes:

- Identity Verification:
  - If you use real-person facial recognition, we collect your photos and facial recognition videos with your approval. This is to compare the uploaded photos with the video, ensuring the authenticity of your identity and preventing account theft or misuse.
- Special Effects, Beautification, and Filters:
  - When you use certain features to create special effects or emojis for your livestream or uploaded pictures on Poppo, we provide beautification and facial filter functions during your livestream.
- Content Safety:
  - During your livestream, we capture segments of your stream to automatically detect and identify inappropriate content, ensuring compliance with platform standards.

Note: This data is only collected when users actively enable the related functions.

2. Storage and Duration of Facial Data:

- Local Storage:
  - Facial data is processed and stored locally on the device. Data is not uploaded to external servers, and we employ advanced encryption techniques to protect data during storage.
- Temporary Storage Duration:
  - Facial data is temporarily stored only during the use of the function. Once processing is complete (e.g., applying a filter or completing verification), the data is immediately deleted. We ensure that facial data is not stored for extended periods in the app.
- Continuous Storage:

original facial data.

Note:

For facial data during livestreams, we use it in real-time without storing it.

For real-person authentication data, it is retained until you request deletion or modification of your personal information, or within 60 days after your account is deleted (whichever comes first). This duration considers the possibility of users wanting to recover their account information, with the maximum recovery period being 60 days.

3. User Control and Data Deletion:

We respect users' control over their facial data. Users can delete any processed images or disable related functions at any time. All temporary facial data will be automatically deleted when users terminate the function.

4. Data Security and Privacy Measures:

- Encryption:
  - All facial data is encrypted during processing and storage to ensure it cannot be accessed by unauthorized individuals or systems.
- Compliance:
  - We strictly adhere to Apple's developer guidelines and relevant privacy regulations to ensure the safety of user data.
