We collect only minimal user data, strictly limited to what is necessary for maintaining and improving the Website and Services. Automatically collected information is used solely to identify potential abuse and gather anonymous statistical data regarding website and service usage. This data does not identify individual users.

Collection of Personal Information

You can use the Mobile Application and Services without revealing any personally identifiable information. However, to access certain features, you may need to provide personal information (e.g., name, email address).

We collect and store any information you knowingly provide when creating an account, publishing content, or filling out forms. This information may include:

- Contact information (e.g., phone number)
- Basic personal information (e.g., business name, country of residence)
- Device geolocation data (e.g., latitude, longitude)
- Access to certain mobile device features (e.g., gallery)
- Some information is provided directly by you through the Mobile Application, while other data may come from public databases or marketing partners. You may opt not to provide personal information, though this may restrict access to certain features. If you have questions about mandatory information, please contact us.

Use and Processing of Collected Information

To provide the Mobile Application, fulfill our legal obligations, and improve services, we may need to collect and process certain business information. Your personal data may be used for operating and maintaining the Website and Services.

Processing depends on your interaction with the Website and Services, location, and the following legal bases:

- Consent for specific purposes
- Necessary for contract performance or pre-contractual obligations
- Compliance with legal requirements
- Task performed in the public interest
- Legitimate interests pursued by us or a third party

In some regions, you may opt out of processing without needing to give consent. We can clarify which legal basis applies to your data processing, and if providing personal data is required by law or contract.

Managing Your Information

You are able to delete certain Business Information we have about you. The Business Information you can delete may change as the Website and Services change. When you delete Business Information, however, we may maintain a copy of the unrevised Personal Information in our records for the duration necessary to comply with our obligations to our affiliates and partners, and for the purposes described below. If you would like to delete your Personal Information or permanently delete your account, you can do so on the settings page of your account on the Brands.live Application.

Retention of information

We will retain and use your Business Information for the period necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce our agreements unless a longer retention period is required or permitted by law. We may use any aggregated data derived from or incorporating your Business Information after you update or delete it, but not in a manner that would identify your business personally. Once the retention period expires, Business Information shall be deleted. Therefore, the right to access, the right to erasure, the right to rectification and the right to data portability cannot be enforced after the expiration of the retention period.
