7. The Term of Retention and Use

We keep your personal data only for the time necessary for the purposes set out in this Privacy Policy and in accordance with the relevant applicable provisions.

– We will retain and use your information, including the Collected Information as long as you are a user of the Service, and will continue to retain your information for up to 5 years from the time you unregister from the Service and/or opt-out for certain services and/or withdraw your consent to certain use (if our processing is based on your consent). Your data will then be deleted or anonymized.

– We will retain and use Contact's information, as long as he/she interacts with a user of the Service, unless he/she requests to be unlisted or deleted.

– If you or any of your Contacts or any other person unlists their name and phone number made available through CallApp's functionalities, in the form described below, we will retain their information, including Collected Information, for a period of up to 5 years from the time they unlisted from CallApp's Service. However, users will not be able to search the CallApp platform for the unlisted name and phone number during such period. At the end of this period, their data will then be deleted or anonymized (unless they have asked to reappear on the CallApp platform).

(collectively, the "Retention Period").

8. Rectification and Deletion of Collected Information

If you find any of your information, including the Collected Information, to be inaccurate, you may contact us at any time by sending an email to: support@callapp.com and we will do our best to rectify your information as soon as practically possible.

If you wish to delete any of your Collected Information from our resources and/or servers, please send an email to: support@callapp.com, and we will delete such Collected Information pursuant to applicable privacy law requirements. In such event, subject to applicable privacy laws, your information will be deleted or unlisted from our database. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if we are required to maintain certain information, including Collected Information, about you, we will comply with your deletion request after fulfilling any legal requirements. In addition, a copy of your information, generated by our automated computer archival back-up systems, may remain in our archives, even after the Retention Period, provided such copy will be stored securely and will not be displayed on our active database.

If you, any of your Contacts or any other person do not wish to have their names and phone numbers made available through CallApp's functionalities, they may unlist their number from the Service by logging onto the "Unlist" page on CallApp's website – https://www.callapp.com/unlist. Once they are unlisted from the Service, CallApp will not search the CallApp platform for their phone number. However, their details may still be av

9.1. For California individuals

If you are a California resident, you may also contact us by clicking here. If you are a California resident, you may use an authorized agent to submit a request on your behalf. The authorized agent may submit a request by contacting us at support@callapp.com or by clicking here. When we verify your agent's request, we may verify both your and your agent's identity and request a signed document from you that authorizes your agent to make the request on your behalf.

To protect your Collected Information, we reserve the right to deny a request from an agent that does not submit proof that they have been authorized by you to act on your behalf.

If you are a California resident, you have the following rights:

- The right to request to know what personal information, including Collected Information, we collect, use, disclose and sell. You may exercise this right twice per year, free of charge. If we are unable to fulfill this request, we will tell you the reasons why.
- The right to opt-out of the "sale" of your Collected Information by us, as "sale" is defined under the CCPA. Without derogating from the aforesaid as to the Eligible Age for which the Service is intended, we do not knowingly sell Collected Information of minors under 13 years old without consent from the minor's parent or guardian, nor do we knowingly sell Collected Information of minors between 13 and 16 years old without the minor's own consent. If you do not affirmatively opt out, and you are not a minor, your Collected Information may be sold as disclosed in this Privacy Policy.
- The right to request deletion of your personal information, including Collected Information, collected by us. We may deny your request under certain circumstances, such as if we need to comply with our legal obligations or complete a transaction for which your personal information was collected. If we deny your request to delete, we will let you know the reason why.
- The right not to receive discriminatory treatment by us for exercising your privacy rights.

The CCPA requires that we make certain disclosures about our general collection, use, disclosure, and sale of personal information over the past 12 months. Accordingly, in the past 12 months: (i) we collected the categories of personal information from the sources and for the purpose detailed in Section 1 above; and (ii) we disclosed the categories of personal information detailed in Section 1 above to the categories of third parties detailed

To exercise your right to opt-out of such sale, please click here. Except for this kind of sharing, CallApp has not sold your personal information; however, please review the disclosure below regarding how we may sell your Collected Information in the future.
We may decide to sell any Collected Information, which includes all of the information described in Section 1 above. We may choose to sell Collected Information to any of the parties described in Sections 2 or 3 of this Privacy Policy for any purpose. To exercise your right to opt-out of the sale of your Collected Information, please click here. If you do not opt-out, your Collected Information may be sold as disclosed in this Privacy Policy.

9.2. For EU and Brazil individuals
If you are in the EEA or Brazil, you have the following rights:

- The right to be informed about how we use your Collected Information. You should be able to find the details in this policy but you can ask for more information if anything is unclear.
- The right to access the Collected Information to confirm whether we are processing your personal information and, if so, to provide you with a copy and inform you of the characteristics of the processing.
- The right to ask us to correct or complete any Collected Information which we hold about you that is inaccurate or incomplete.
- The right to ask us to delete your Collected Information in certain circumstances (the data is no longer necessary for the purpose of the processing, your consent has been withdrawn, you have objected to the processing, the data has been unlawfully processed, erasure is required to comply with a legal obligation). Please note, however, that we are not required to delete Collected Information that is necessary to provide services that you request or that we need to keep to comply with applicable laws.
- The right to restrict (i.e., to retain your personal information but not to use it). your Collected Information in certain circumstances when you dispute the accuracy of your personal information, in order to enable us to verify such accuracy; processing of your personal information is unlawful, but you do not want it to be deleted; it is necessary for you for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims; you have exercised your right to object and verifying the existence of overriding grounds is in progress. We may continue to use your Collected Information following a request for restriction, when we have your consent; for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims; or for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person. We will suspend the processing of your Collected Information. Please note that this may affect your ability to

- The right to withdraw your consent, at any time, to our processing of your Collected Information if our processing is based on your consent where applicable, without compromising the lawfulness of the processing based on consent carried out prior to such withdrawal.
- The right to request to provide you with your Collected Information in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format, or that we transfer certain elements of your Collected Information to you or another service provider in a machine-readable format. This right applies only where the processing is based on your consent or on the performance of a contract and the processing is carried out using automated processes.
- The digital right to legacy (only if you are a French resident). If you are located in France, you have the right to set out instructions (general or specific) about what happens to your Collected Information after your death.
- The right to complain to your national data protection regulator.

10. Security

We take commercially reasonable efforts to maintain the security of the Service and the information you submit to the Service, including your Collected Information, and preventing unauthorized access to your information, including your Collected Information, through the use of industry-standard technologies and reasonable internal procedures, including transmitting your data using modern security measures such as encryption.

In addition, we enable the display of CallApp's data only based on a phone number which has already been obtained by a user, e.g.: by an incoming call.

We make good faith efforts to store your information in a secure operating environment. However, we cannot guarantee security. We cannot be responsible for the acts of those who gain unauthorized access to or abuse our Service, and we make no warranty, express, implied or otherwise, that we will prevent such access. You understand that all information, including Collected Information, collected through our website or in connection with the Service is at your own risk and is subject to the provisions, disclaimers, and limitations of liability in both this Privacy Policy and our Terms of Service.

In the event that we become aware of any accidental or unauthorized access to your information, we will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify you of such.

This Privacy Policy shall be construed and governed in accordance with the laws of the State of Israel, regardless of its conflict of laws rules. The courts of Tel Aviv, Israel, shall have sole and exclusive jurisdiction over any dispute under this Privacy Policy or otherwise related to the Service.

13. Updates to this Privacy Policy

CallApp reserves the right to update this Privacy Policy from time to time. In our sole discretion we may post updates to CallApp's website. Updates to this Privacy Policy are effective as of the "Last Updated" date. If we make significant changes, we will make that clear on the app and/or on our website or by some other means of contact such as email, so that you can review the changes before you continue to use the Service.

14. Inquiries or Complaints

If you have an inquiry or complaint about this Privacy Policy or our information collection practices, please contact CallApp's Data Protection Officer, who has been appointed to deal with your inquiries and complaints. You may reach him/ her at: dpo@callapp.com.
If you are unsatisfied with our Data Protection Officer's treatment of your inquiry, you may lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority in your country.
