It is also important to note that we allow third party behavioral tracking COPPA (Children Online Privacy Protection Act)

When it comes to the collection of personal information from children under 13, the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) puts parents in control. The Federal Trade Commission, the nation's consumer protection agency, enforces the COPPA Rule, which spells out what operators of websites and online services must do to protect children's privacy and safety online.

We do not specifically market to children under 13.

Fair Information Practices

The Fair Information Practices Principles form the backbone of privacy law in the United States and the concepts they include have played a significant role in the development of data protection laws around the globe. Understanding the Fair Information Practice Principles and how they should be implemented is critical to comply with the various privacy laws that protect personal information.

In order to be in line with Fair Information Practices we will take the following responsive action, should a data breach occur:

We will notify the users via email

• Within 1 business day

We also agree to the individual redress principle, which requires that individuals have a right to pursue legally enforceable rights against data collectors and processors who fail to adhere to the law. This principle requires not only that individuals have enforceable rights against data users, but also that individuals have recourse to courts or a government agency to investigate and/or prosecute non-compliance by data processors.

Can Spam Act

The CAN-SPAM Act is a law that sets the rules for commercial email, establishes requirements for commercial messages, gives recipients the right to have emails stopped from being sent to them, and spells out tough penalties for violations.

We collect your email address in order to:

- Send information, respond to inquiries, and/or other requests or questions.
- Market to our mailing list or continue to send emails to our clients after the original transaction has occurred to enhance their dining experience

Why Do We Need the SMS Permission?

- We request the SMS permission to enable a smoother and more secure payment experience for in-app restaurant bill payments. We only access the OTP SMS for secure verification and don't store message history. Granting permission allows auto-fill for a faster checkout. You can still deny permission and manually enter the OTP code.

To be in accordance with CANSPAM we agree to the following:

International Data Transfers

When EazyDiner receive any user information outside of India, we comply with providing adequate protection for the transfer of personal information. EazyDiner acts as a data processor for its users based outside of India by providing data hosting, maintenance, support, and troubleshooting of services, as well as other redundant back office support. With respect to such international data transfers, we implement standard contractual clauses and other mechanisms to protect such data.

Individuals that use products or services offered by EazyDiner may wish to raise any privacy questions directly, including filing any requests to access U.S. or European customer data or exercise other privacy rights. Any Updates on EazyDiner services is communicated to users only if the individual has opted in to receive information.

What does my acceptance of the privacy statement mean?
