Privacy Policy

Updated as of June 21, 2024

Solid Starts Inc ("Solid Starts" "we," "us," or "our") knows that you care about how your information is collected, used, shared and retained. This Privacy Policy applies to information collected when you visit our website (www.solidstarts.com) ("Website"), use our mobile application ("App") or access or use services that we make available from time to time through our platform ("Platform"), through our Website or through our App (our Platform, Website and App are sometimes collectively referred to herein as "Website").

By visiting our Website, using our App, or accessing or using our Platform, you are agreeing to the terms of this Privacy Policy and the accompanying Terms of Use. If you do not agree with this Policy or our Terms of Use, please do not use our Website or provide any Personal Information to

We use cookies to give you the best experience on our website, as detailed in our Privacy Policy. By using this website, you consent to this use of cookies.

The content offered on SolidStarts.com and the Solid Starts App is for informational purposes only and has been created with typically developing babies and children in mind. The information here, including but not limited to suggestions on how to cut or prepare particular foods and the size and shapes of particular foods, is generalized for a broad audience. Your child is an individual and may have needs or considerations beyond generally accepted practices. If your child has underlying medical or developmental differences, we strongly recommend and encourage you to discuss their feeding plan and when and how to start solids and finger food with your child's doctor, health care professional, nutritionist or expert in pediatric feeding and eating ("Health Care Providers"). Solid Starts is not engaged in rendering professional advice, whether medical or otherwise, to individual users or their children or families. No content on this site or app, regardless of date, should ever be used as a substitute for child-specific, one-on-one advice from your pediatric medical or health professional or for direct medical advice from your Health Care Providers.

By using this website or app, you acknowledge that you understand that it is impossible to fully eliminate all risk of a baby or child choking on any liquid, puree, or food. We advise you to follow all safety protocols we suggest to create a safe eating environment and to make educated choices for your child regarding their specific needs. Never disregard professional medical advice or delay in seeking it because of something you have read or seen here.

By accessing the content on SolidStarts.com or our app, you acknowledge and agree that you are accepting responsibility for your child's health and well-being. In return for Solid Starts providing you with an array of content on "baby-led weaning," toddlers, and picky eaters, you waive any claims that you or your child may have as a result of utilizing the content Solid Starts provides. Always seek the advice of your Health Care Providers with any questions you may have regarding your child's development and capacity for starting solid foods.

If your child has underlying medical or developmental differences, we strongly recommend and encourage you to discuss their feeding plan and when and how to start solids and finger food with your child's doctor, health care professional, nutritionist or expert in pediatric feeding and eating ("Health Care Providers"). Solid Starts is not engaged in rendering professional advice, whether medical or otherwise, to individual users or their children or families. No content on this site or app, regardless of date, should ever be used as a substitute for child-specific, one-on-one advice from your pediatric medical or health professional or for direct medical advice from your Health Care Providers.

By using this website or app, you acknowledge that you understand that it is impossible to fully eliminate all risk of a baby or child choking on any liquid, puree, or food. We advise you to follow all safety protocols we suggest to create a safe eating environment and to make educated choices for your child regarding their specific needs. Never disregard professional medical advice or delay in seeking it because of something you have read or seen here.

By accessing the content on SolidStarts.com or our app, you acknowledge and agree that you are accepting responsibility for your child's health and well-being. In return for Solid Starts providing you with an array of content on "baby-led weaning," toddlers, and picky eaters, you waive any claims that you or your child may have as a result of utilizing the content Solid Starts provides. Always seek the advice of your Health Care Providers with any questions you may have regarding your child's development and capacity for starting solid foods.
