Any data that is stored on Fingersoft servers is not generally available to the public. However, the use of internet services always includes security risks.

10. Disclaimer of Warranties

Without limiting Fingersoft's liability under section 11 below, the services are provided on an "as is" and "as available" basis for your use, without warranties of any kind, express or implied, including without limitation the warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, title, non-infringement, and those arising from course of dealing or usage of trade. Fingersoft does not warrant that you will be able to access or use the services at the times or locations of your choosing; that the service will be uninterrupted or error-free; that defects will be corrected; or that the game or the service are free of viruses or other harmful components.

Some jurisdictions do not allow the exclusion of certain warranties. Accordingly, some of the above disclaimers may not apply to you.

11. Limitation of Liability; Sole and Exclusive Remedy; Indemnification

To the maximum extent permitted by law, Fingersoft shall not be liable to you for any indirect, incidental, consequential, special, punitive or other similar damages, including but not limited to loss of revenues, lost profits, lost data or business interruption or other intangible losses (however such losses are qualified), arising out of or relating in any way to these terms or the services, whether based on contract, tort or any other legal theory, and whether or not Fingersoft has been advised of the possibility of such damages. To the extent not prohibited by law, Fingersoft shall not be liable to you for more than the amount you have paid to fingersoft in accordance with these terms in the six (6) months immediately preceding the date on which you first assert a claim. You acknowledge and agree that if you have not paid anything to Fingersoft during such time period, your sole remedy (and Fingersoft's exclusive liability) for any dispute with Fingersoft is to stop using the services and to cancel your account.

Nothing in these terms shall affect the statutory rights of any consumer or exclude or restrict any liability resulting from gross negligence or willful misconduct of Fingersoft or for death or personal injury arising from any negligence or fraud of Fingersoft.

You agree to indemnify, defend and hold Fingersoft (and Fingersoft's officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries, parent companies, joint ventures and employees) harmless from any claim, demand, damages or other losses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, asserted by any third-party resulting from or arising out of your use of the Services, or any breach by you of these Terms, however the foregoing does not apply if the infringement of rights is not attributable to your intentional or negligent behavior.

12. Dispute Resolution

This Section "Dispute Resolution" constitutes an agreement between Fingersoft and you. You and Fingersoft agree that the processes for dispute resolution described in this agreement will apply to any dispute or claims related to these Terms, the Fingersoft Privacy Policy, or the Services. Disputes include any claims of any kind, including but not limited to legal, equitable, or statutory claims. Processes for dispute resolution will apply even if you stop using your account, delete your account, or stop using the Services. They will also apply to disputes that arose before we entered into this agreement.

Sections 12.1 to 12.7 only apply to residents of the United States or Canada. They do not apply to you if you are a resident of any other country.

12.1 Informal Dispute Resolution

You must try to informally resolve any dispute directly with Fingersoft for at least thirty days before starting an arbitration. The period for informal dispute resolution starts when you have given notice to Fingersoft of the dispute via email to legal-disputes@fingersoft.com.

12.2 Arbitration Agreement

Either you or Fingersoft may choose to submit any dispute for resolution exclusively by final and binding arbitration unless the claim is within the exceptions described elsewhere in these Terms. If you or Fingersoft bring a claim in court that can be resolved by arbitration as specified in this arbitration agreement, then either party has the right to ask the court to order the parties to resolve the claim by arbitration. The arbitrator will have the exclusive authority to decide whether any portion of Section 12 "Dispute Resolution" is valid or enforceable, or whether it applies to a claim and whether a claim is arbitrable.

An arbitration proceeding will be held before a neutral arbitrator. This means you and Fingersoft agree to give up the right to resolve the dispute in a trial before a judge or jury.

Arbitration has different rules than more formal lawsuits. For example, the ability to force the other side to share information may be more limited than the process called discovery in formal lawsuits. After the arbitrator decides the outcome, that decision will be final. You or Fingersoft can ask the arbitrator to put a decision or award and the reasons for it in writing. Either you or Fingersoft can ask a court to confirm or enter the arbitrator's final decision or award, which will make it the same as a court judgment. You and Fingersoft will generally not be able to change the outcome of arbitration through courts outside of very limited circumstances.

12.3. Arbitration Process

The arbitration will be run by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"). The arbitration will be governed by AAA's Consumer Arbitration Rules and, as applicable, the AAA Mass Arbitration Supplementary Rules, as any such may be modified by these Terms and by the AAA. If there is a conflict between these Terms and AAA's rules and procedures, then we will follow these Terms. To review AAA's Rules or to start arbitration, you can go to AAA's website at www.adr.org/rules. If either of us decides to start arbitration, we agree to provide the other party with a written demand for arbitration as specified in the AAA rules.

The fees for arbitration will be determined by AAA's Consumer Arbitration Rules. If the arbitrator decides that those fees are excessive, Fingersoft will pay the fees. Each side will pay their own attorneys' fees and costs unless the claims allow for the prevailing party to recover attorneys' fees and costs, in which case the arbitrator may award them under the applicable law. If either party unsuccessfully challenges the validity of the arbitrator's decision or award through a subsequent court case, the unsuccessful party shall pay the opposing party's costs and attorneys' fees associated with the challenge.

The arbitration will take place either in San Francisco, California, USA or in the county or province where you reside. Except as may be required by law, neither a party nor an arbitrator may disclose the existence, content, or results of any arbitration hereunder without the prior written consent of both parties.

12.4. Exceptions to Agreement to Arbitrate

You and Fingesoft agree that the arbitration agreement in Section 12 will not apply in the following disputes:

- Claims about Fingersoft's intellectual property, such as claims to enforce, protect, or concerning the validity of Fingersoft's copyrights, trademarks, trade dress, domain names, patents, trade secrets, or any other other intellectual property rights.
- Claims related to piracy or tortious interference.
- Claims that are not subject to arbitration agreement as a matter of law and are not preempted by federal law that would allow for an agreement to arbitration.
- Claims in small claims court.

Any dispute not subject to arbitration under these exceptions shall be resolved by a court of competent jurisdiction as described in Section 13 “Venue for Disputes Not Subject to Arbitration”.

12.5. No Class Actions

You and Fingersoft agree that we can only bring claims against each other on an individual basis.

That means:

- You or Fingersoft cannot bring a claim against the otheras a plaintiff or class member in a class, collective, consolidated, or representative action.
- The arbitrator cannot combine any other person’s claims with yours into a single case or preside over any class, collective, consolidated, or representative arbitration proceeding.
- The arbitrator’s decision or award in your case will not apply to anyone else and cannot be used to decide other people’s disputes.

To increase the efficiency of administration and resolution of arbitrations, you and Fingersoft agree that in the event that there are twenty five (25) or more individual demands for arbitration of a substantially similar nature filed against Fingersoft by or with the assistance of the same law firm, group of law firms, or organizations or representation is consistent or coordinated across the cases, all such demands for arbitration are processed in accordance with AAA´s Mass Arbitration Supplementary Rules for consumer mass arbitration. The cases will be heard on the documents, rather than by in-person, telephone, or video conference hearings. Multiple cases can be assigned to one arbitrator. The arbitration will be based on the submission of documents and there shall be no in-person or oral hearing. This mass arbitration provision shall in no way be interpreted as authorizing a class or collective action of any kind, except as expressly set forth in this provision.

If this Section 12.4 “No class actions” is found to be unenforceable or invalid, then the entirety of Section 12 shall be void.

12.6. Opt-Out of Arbitration Agreement an No Class Action Provisions

You can choose to opt out of and not be bound by the Arbitration Agreement and No Class Action provisions above (Sections 12.1. to 12.5.) by sending a written notice of your decision to opt out to legal-disputes@fingersoft.com with the subject line “ARBITRATION AND CLASS ACTION WAIVER OPT-OUT”. You must send us this notice within thirty days of your first use of the Service or availability of this opt-out, whichever is later. If you do not send us a notice within that time, you will be bound to arbitrate disputes in accordance with the terms of these Sections. If you opt out of these arbitration provisions, Fingersoft also will not be bound by them.

12.7 Amendments to the Arbitration Agreement

Fingersoft will provide 30-days' notice of any changes to this Section 12 through the Services or via other similar means. Changes to this Section 12 will become effective on the 30th day and will apply prospectively only to any claims arising after the 30th day.

If Fingersoft amends this Section 12 after the date you first accepted the arbitration agreement in this Section 12 (or accepted any subsequent changes to this Section 12), you may reject any such change to this Section 12 by sending us written notice (by email to legal-notices@fingersoft.com) with the subject line "ARBITRATION AND CLASS ACTION WAIVER OPT-OUT" within 30 days of the date such change to this Section 12 became effective or in the date of our other communication to you notifying you of such change. Your rejection will apply only prospectively and does not have any effect on claims made or for which the circumstances arose prior to your rejection or the changes. You agree that your continued use of the Services 30 days after a change will be deemed acceptance of those changes.

13. Applicable Law and Venue

If you are a resident of any country within the European Economic Area country or the UK, these Terms and the Fingersoft Privacy Policy shall be governed by, and construed under, the laws of your country of residence without regard to conflict of laws rules. The exclusive jurisdiction for all disputes will be the competent courts of your country of residence.

Please note that Fingersoft may not be required to accept the use of this or other alternative dispute resolution platforms.

If you are not a resident of any counry within the European Economic Area, the UK, United States or Canada, these Terms and the Fingersoft Privacy Policy shall be governed by, and construed under, the laws of Finland without regard to conflict of laws rules. The exclusive jurisdiction for all disputes will be the district court of Helsinki, Finland unless otherwise required by the law of the country where you have your residence.

If you are a resident of the United States or Canada, the United States Federal Arbitration Act (including its procedural provisions) governs the interpretation and enforcement of the agreement to arbitrate and as well as the no class actions provisions of Section 12. Any dispute arising out of or related to these Terms, Fingersoft Privacy Policy, or the Services shall be exclusively governed in all respects by the laws of the State of California, USA without regard to conflict of law provisions.

If you are a resident of the United States or Canada, you agree that any claim or dispute you may have against Fingersoft that is not subject to arbitration under Section 12 must be resolved exclusively by a federal or state court located in San Francisco County, California.

14. General Provisions

14.1. Severability. You and Fingersoft agree that if any portion of these Terms, Fingersoft's Privacy Policy or any supplemental terms are found illegal or unenforceable, in whole or in part by any court of competent jurisdiction, such provision shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective solely to the extent of such determination of invalidity or unenforceability without affecting the validity or enforceability thereof in any other manner or jurisdiction and without affecting the remaining provisions of the terms, which shall continue to be in full force and effect.

14.2. Assignment. Fingersoft may assign or delegate these Terms and/or the Fingersoft Privacy Policy, in whole or in part, to any person or entity at any time with or without your consent.You may not assign or delegate any rights or obligations under the Terms or the Privacy Policy without Fingersoft's prior written consent.

14.5. No Waiver. The failure of Fingersoft to require or enforce strict performance by you of any provision of these Terms or the Fingersoft Privacy Policy or failure to exercise any right under them shall not be construed as a waiver or relinquishment of Fingersoft's right to assert or rely upon any such provision or right in that or any other instance.

The express waiver by Fingersoft of any provision, condition, or requirement of these Terms or the Fingersoft Privacy Policy shall not constitute a waiver of any future obligation to comply with such provision, condition or requirement.

Except as expressly and specifically set forth in this these Terms, no representations, statements, consents, waivers, or other acts or omissions by Fingersoft shall be deemed a modification of these Terms nor legally binding, unless documented in physical writing, hand signed by you and a duly appointed officer of Fingersoft.
