- Data Security
- Data Subject Rights
- Data Controller/Processor & Recipients Data

Privacy is important to us, and we are strongly committed to transparency and fairness in our data processing activities. Please read this Privacy Policy carefully and make sure that you fully understand and agree to our practices. Remember: you are not legally required to provide us with any personal data, and may do so (or avoid doing so) at your own free will.

If you do not wish to provide us with your personal data, or to have it processed by us, please avoid any interaction with us or with our Services, or submit a request to exercise your rights as further explained in Section 9 below but please keep in mind that limiting our processing may also result in us not being able to provide you the ability to use our Services, or with the best user experience when using our Services.

1. Data Collection

When we use the term "personal data" (or "personal information" under certain data protection laws such as the California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (CCPA)) in this Privacy Policy, we mean information that identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, to an individual or household. It does not include aggregated, de-identified or anonymized information that is maintained in a form that is not reasonably capable of being associated with or linked to an individual. Specifically, we collect the following categories of personal data:

- Data automatically collected or generated: when someone visits, interacts with or uses our Services, including any e-mail or text messages sent to them by us or via our Services, we may collect or generate technical data about them. We collect or generate such data either independently or with the help of third-party services (as detailed in Sections 5 below). Such data consists of connectivity, technical or aggregated usage data, such as IP address, device advertiser ID, non-identifying data regarding the device, operating system, browser version, locale and language settings used, the cookies and pixels installed on such device, and the activity (clicks and other interactions) of Users within our Services.
- Data received from you: you may provide us personal data voluntarily, such as your name and e-mail address when you contact us, your hashed password, your content and images (including details regarding your events or other announcements, if you choose to submit them as you use the Services), when you post on our public forums or groups, when you sign-up to receive e-mail updates, when you place any purchases via our Services, or when you choose to connect your Facebook, Google, or Apple account to our Services. You may also provide us with personal data of your Recipients, such as their names and e-mail addresses, so that you can use our Services to contact and send them content and invitations you uploaded to and created through the Services; and in such cases, we may collect additional information concerning such Recipients (including, for example, analytics data concerning their interactions with the content and invitations you sent them, their phone number, and their responses to such invitations – all on your behalf of course, so you can better manage your events).
- Data received from Facebook, Google and other channels: If you choose to connect your Facebook, Google, or Apple account to our Services, we will receive access to your full name and user ID on Facebook, Google, or Apple. You may also choose to allow us to access your images saved on such services, so that you could fetch these images and use them on our Services. Such access will also allow us to collect the following parameters (to the extent available there and only if you defined them as "public"): your profile picture, gender, date of birth, comments on our company page, tags and tagged pictures, locale and time zone. In addition, we or our advertising partners may receive from Facebook, Google and our other marketing channels general information concerning the performance of our advertising campaigns, such as the targeted age group or interests, and we or our partners may be able to link such general data to any other data in our possession.
- Transaction Data: Our Services allow you to place purchases. Currently all purchases must be completed either with a credit card or via PayPal, which will then provide us with limited data concerning your order. We will not collect or store your financial data, e.g., your credit card numbers or bank account. However, we may still receive your n financial personal data related to your order, such as your name, PayPal username/

Need Help?

We and our authorized Service Providers (defined below) maintain, store and process personal data in the United States, Israel, and other locations as reasonably necessary for the proper performance and delivery of our Services, or as may be required by law.

Greetings Island is headquartered in Israel, a jurisdiction which is considered by the European Commission, the UK Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), and the Swiss Federal Data Protection and Information Commissioner, to be offering an adequate level of protection for personal data of individuals residing in EU Member States, the UK and Switzerland, respectively. We transfer data from the EEA, the UK and Switzerland to Israel on this basis.

While privacy laws may vary between jurisdictions, Greetings Island and its affiliates and Service Providers are each committed to protect personal data in accordance with this Privacy Policy, customary industry standards, and such appropriate lawful mechanisms and contractual terms requiring adequate data protection, regardless of any lesser legal requirements that may apply in the jurisdiction from which such data originated. For data transfers from the EU, the UK, or Switzerland to countries that are not considered to be offering an adequate level of data protection by the relevant data protection authority, we and the relevant data exporters and importers enter into Standard Contractual Clauses ("SCC"), you can obtain a copy by contacting us as indicated in Section 12 below.

4. Data Retention

To determine the appropriate retention period, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorized use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether those purposes can be achieved through other means, as well as applicable legal requirements.

If you have any questions about our data retention policy, please contact us at privacy@GreetingsIsland.com.

10. Data Controller/Processor

Certain data protection laws and regulations, such as the EU and UK GDPR or the CCPA, typically distinguish between two main roles for parties processing personal data: the "data controller" (or under the CCPA, "business"), who determines the purposes and means of processing; and the "data processor" (or under the CCPA, "service provider"), who processes the data on behalf of the data controller (or business). Below we explain how these roles apply to our Services, to the extent that such laws and regulations apply.

Greetings Island is the "data controller" (or "business") of its Users' data, and assumes the responsibilities of data controller (solely to the extent applicable under law), as set forth

Need Help?

Policy. Our Service Providers (described in Section 5) processing such data will assume the role of "data processor" (or "service provider" as defined under the CCPA).

Greetings Island is the "data processor" (or "service provider") of Recipient data. If a User uploads or submits any Recipient's personal data to our Services (for example, in the process of creating an online e-card or updating their guests' list), such User is deemed by us as the "data controller" of their Recipients' data, and we will only process such data on our User's behalf, as their "data processor" - in accordance with their reasonable instructions and subject to our Terms of Service. The User will be solely responsible for meeting any legal requirements applicable to data controllers (such as obtaining all necessary permissions and establishing any required legal bases for processing their Recipients' data through the Services, and for responding to Data Subject Rights requests concerning the data they control).

Each User is exclusively responsible for the security, integrity and authorized usage of their Recipients' personal data, and for obtaining consents or establishing other necessary legal bases, permissions and providing any fair processing notices required for the collection and usage of such data.

If you are a Recipient of any of our Users, please note that Greetings Island only processes your data solely on such User's behalf. If a Recipient would like to make any requests or queries regarding their personal data, we encourage then to contact such User(s) directly. For example, if you are a Recipient who wishes to access, correct, or delete data processed by Greetings Island on behalf of its Users, please direct your request to the relevant User (who actually "Controls" such data). If requested to remove any Recipient's personal data, we will respond to such request within thirty (30) days. Unless otherwise instructed by our User, we will retain their Recipients' personal data for the period set forth in Section 4 above.

11. Opt-Out of Sale and Sharing/Targeted Advertising

Our disclosure of certain internet activity and device information with third parties through cookies or pixels may be considered a "sale" or "sharing" of personal information or processing for purposes of "targeted advertising" as such terms are defined under US State Privacy laws. We do so in pursuit of the business and commercial purposes described in Section 2 above.

In the last 12 months we have "sold" or "shared" or processed for targeted advertising, Internet or other electronic network activity information, Geolocation Data, and Commercial Information of Users with our analytics and advertising partners and service providers.

You may opt out of all cookies that may result in a "sale" and/or "sharing" of your personal information or processing for purposes of targeted advertising in the following ways:

Please note: If you visit us from a different device or browser, or clear cookies, then you will need to return to this screen to re-select your preferences.
