The following personal information is collected.

In order to process member registration (or service registration), convenient customer service, and various other services, the company collects necessary personal information on the first use of the service. Required information includes name, date of birth, a phone number or email address depending on registration method, password, and device information. Your name, profile photo, and email address will be collected when you sign up with or link your Facebook account; your name, profile photo, and email address will be collected when you sign up with or link your Google account; your name and profile photo will be collected when you sign up with or link your LINE account; your NAVER ID, name, profile photo, and email address will be collected when you sign up with or link your NAVER account; and your name and email address will be collected when you sign up with or link your APPLE account; and your name and email address will be collected when you sign up with or link your Whale Enterprise account. In addition, information selectively gathered for the use of various features specialized for the service includes BAND account’s profile photo, gender, names and mobile phone numbers of individual acquaintances invited by members or registered as members before joining, band information on certain groups, location information (latitude and longitude), and email address. Apart from the profile information of the BAND account, you can also separately set your profile information (profile photo or nickname) to use in the BAND where you have joined. Furthermore, an email address or a NAVER/LINE/Facebook/Google/Apple account information will be required when you log out of BAND to avoid any inconvenience at the time of your re-login. If email invitation authentication is set as a condition for a BAND membership, the leader or co-leader of that BAND can send an email invitation by registering the email address and name of the invitee. Then, invited members can enter their email address to authenticate and join that BAND.

When using various individual services within BAND, other personal information may be collected after user agreement, and cases that require collection of additional information are as follows.

If collecting additional personal information after user agreement: ▼

In addition, a unique device ID may be issued and stored for each device or browser during the BAND service registration process, and the location information, accessing IP information, access (or authentication) log, ADID or IDFA, date and time of access, service use record, disciplinary action or suspension record, information uploaded by the user, payment history and cookies may be collected while using the service use or for business processing.

The mentioned personal information is collected during BAND program execution or use through creation information collection tools, and partial information is received by writing, fax, phone, inquiry forums, and emails, and may also be received from partner companies.

Personal Information is utilized for providing seamless service, member management, developing new service and service notice purposes.

Your personal information will be used to identify the trade name within the service to which you subscribe, verify your age and obtain the consent of your legal representative, verify the identity of users and their legal representatives, connect to the account via the connecting means (NAVER, LINE, Facebook, or Google) configured by you, invite your acquaintances, register as members before joining, provide contents, and provide certain customized services. Such information could also be used for delivering products of bill, identification, purchase and settlement, collecting payment and checking payment information and purchase history for customer consultation if the user is using paid service. Also, it is utilized for various member management efforts including identification according to the use of membership-based services, identity confirmation, to prevent dishonest or unauthorized use of the Company's services, to verify intention to join, to check duplicate subscription, to retain records for settlement of conflicts, to process civil complaints including customer complaints and to deliver notices.

Furthermore, such personal information could be used for various marketing and advertisement activities. This includes, developing new services, providing customized services relating to the services already provided by the company, providing services and place advertisements based on statistical characteristics, confirming validity of the service, providing information on events and advertisements as well as opportunities to participate in these events, and identifying access frequency and statistics on member’s service usage.

Personal Information will only be used within the notified scope and shall not be disclosed to the third party without your prior consent.

Company uses your personal information within the indicated scope in regards to the purpose for collection and use of personal information. Name and profile picture are disclosed for the purpose of identifying each other while using the service. Depending on how you had configured your setting, your birthdate and mobile phone number can be exposed in BAND. Also if you invite a friend to BAND, your name and profile image will be exposed for the invitee to recognize you and if you select your contact number as the invitation means, your phone number will be exposed to the invitee since the invitation message gets delivered via SMS. Should you have connected LINE account with BAND, the connection with LINE will be displayed, enabling 'Chat on LINE' feature, however such feature will be limited only to the BAND where you had joined, thereby exposed to only the members of the corresponding BAND.

Other than the above reason, personal information is not used or publicized without prior agreement, however the following instances are exceptions. First, the user has agreed in advance. If you agree to use the service of a third party affiliated with BAND, the personal information of the gift shop users (profile name and photo, subscribed BANDs and member list) may be provided to WINCUBE Marketing Co., Ltd. to operate or develop services, and provide customer consultation. If you agree to use BAND book/photo printing service, your profile photo and name, subscribed private BANDs and friend list, and all posts and information within the BAND may be provided to Bollog Co., Ltd. In addition, where you use the LINE PLAY services, your profile name and photo, subscribed BANDs and member list may be provided to LY Corporation for the subscription/account connection and social activities. When using the NAVER Pay remittance service, the BAND internal identifier, NAVER ID, profile information (nickname, image), and device ID (IDFV, Android ID) to NAVER Financial Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as “NAVER Financial”) are provided with the consent of the sender and receiver. However, since the time of remittance and the time of receiving money do not exactly match, inevitably during the temporary period of waiting for remittance, in accordance with Article 17, Paragraph 4 of the Personal Information Protection Act, the recipient's personal information (BAND internal identifier, profile information) may be provided prior to the consent. Recipients can receive the money after agreeing to the provision of personal information. The personal information provided to NAVER Financial will be strored for 5 years in accordance with Article 22 of the Electronic Financial Transactions Act, as it is applicable as electronic financial transaction records.
We will provide guidance on the personal information provided for each service at the time of your agreement. The provided personal information content may be added or changed during service, and if required personal information to use partner services is changed then additional agreement is needed. In addition, if sending gifts or product information between users through Gift Shop service, the receiver’s name, profile photo, and domestic user information will be made public when the sender selects a receiver from his/her friends list. In this case, only Band members in the Bands you are part of can be selected. Personal information shared for these purposes is stored/used until the end of service. In addition, if the personal location information is provided to a third party designated by the subject of the personal location information, the subject is immediately notified of the recipients of the information, the date of provision, and the purpose of provision each time.

Furthermore, your personal information is subject to be disclosed when demanded by the legislation of Korea, and when an investigative agency makes a request based on the process and method defined by the legislation, it shall be considered an exception.

To provide a safe remittance service between BAND members, additional personal information is provided in accordance with Article 17, Paragraph 4 of the Personal Information Protection Act considering the following factors.

- When transferring money between BAND members using NAVER Pay service within BAND, both the sender and the receiver must agree to the provision of personal information to a third party, and only after the consent, can the transfer be executed and received.

- At the same time as the remittance, the recipient's personal information is also provided to NAVER Financial, and if the recipient has not yet agreed to the provision of personal information, the recipient's personal information (BAND internal identifier, profile information) can be inevitably provided for a limited time prior to consent. Since the purpose of providing this personal information is only for remittance between BAND members, personal information within the scope related to the purpose of collecting and using personal information in the BAND service will be provided.

- When considering the customary practice of not obtaining prior consent for the provision of personal information to the recipient in mostly similar services such as bank transfer and gift giving using a mobile phone number, it is predictable that the recipient's personal information may be passed on to the company providing the remittance service.

- It does not infringe on the interests of users as personal information is processed only for the purpose of safe remittance between BAND members. Personal information provided to NAVER Financial will be stored for 5 years and then destroyed in accordance with Article 22 of the Electronic Financial Transactions Act, as it is applicable as electronic financial transaction records.

APPENDIX

Jurisdiction-Specific Addendum

United States of America. For Users in, or whose usual residence is in the United States of America (the “US Users”), the following additional terms shall apply. In the event of any conflict between the following additional terms and the provisions of the main body of this Privacy Policy, the following terms shall prevail.

I. Information for California Residents Only

This section supplements the information contained in the BAND Privacy Policy and applies solely to visitors, users, and others who are residents of the State of California. This section describes your rights under the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (“CCPA”). Any terms defined in the CCPA have the same meaning as when used herein.

What is the CCPA?

The CCPA is a California law that provides California residents certain rights to their personal information. If you want to know more about CCPA, please search for "CCPA California" in the search engines.

California residents, called “consumers” in the CCPA, have the following rights:

- The right to request that we disclose certain information to you about our collection and use of personal information over the past 12 months
- The right to request that we delete any of your personal information that we collect from you and retained, subject to certain exceptions
- The right to opt-out of the sale of personal information by us
- The right not to receive discriminatory treatment by us for exercising the privacy rights conferred by the CCPA

We will explain more about how to exercise these rights below.

When we talk about “personal information” under the CCPA, we mean information that identifies, relates to, describes, is reasonably capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked to, directly or indirectly, a particular consumer or household. Personal information does not include publicly available information or information that is deidentified or aggregate consumer information.

The Purposes for Which Personal Information is Collected

We may collect the personal information we collect for one or more of the following business purposes:

- To fulfill or meet the reason you provided the information
- To provide, support, personalize, and develop our Services

- To create, maintain, customize, and secure your account with us
- To process your requests, purchases, transactions, and payments and prevent transactional fraud
- To provide you with support and to respond to your inquiries, including to investigate and address your concerns and monitor and improve our responses
- To personalize your experience and to deliver content and product and service offerings relevant to your interests, including targeted offers and ads through our digital properties, third-party sites, and via email or text message (with your consent, where required by law)
- To help maintain the safety, security, and integrity of our digital properties, products and services, databases and other technology assets, and business
- For testing, research, analysis, and product development, including to develop and improve our digital properties, products, and services
- To respond to law enforcement requests and as required by applicable law, court order, or governmental regulations
- As described to you when collecting your personal information or as otherwise set forth in the CCPA
- To evaluate or conduct a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of Naver Corp.'s assets, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding, in which personal information held by Naver Corp. about our Services users is among the assets transferred

Sharing Personal Information

We may disclose your personal information to a third party for a business purpose or commercial purpose (as set out above). This includes:

- Identifiers
- California Customer Records personal information categories
- Protected classification characteristics under California or federal law
- Commercial information
- Internet or similar network activity
- Professional or employment-related information
- Inferences drawn from other personal information

Sale of Your Personal Information

The CCPA defines a “sale” of personal information as the disclosure, sharing, or making available of a consumer’s personal information by a business to another business or third party for monetary or other valuable consideration. It is not a sale if a consumer uses or directs the business to intentionally disclose personal information or uses the business to intentionally interact with a third party.

You have the right to instruct us to stop the kind of sharing that the CCPA treats as "sales" and not to engage in that kind of sharing in the future, unless you choose to allow it. Please be aware there may be circumstances where we can share information with others even if you instruct us to stop "selling" your personal information, as permitted under the CCPA. For example, we may still be able to share information with our service providers so that they can provide services to us. In addition, your instruction to stop "selling" your personal information will not affect sharing that occurred before you gave us the instruction.

Naver Corp. does not sell or monetize your personal information; We share certain information about your device and interaction with our Services to enhance your experience with us and to engage in the legitimate business purpose of advertising and marketing.

You may opt-out of the sale of your personal information by visiting BAND Help Center. (band_help@naver.com) We do not have actual knowledge that it sells the personal information of minors under the age of 16.

Exercising Your California Privacy Rights

Only you, or someone legally authorized to act on your behalf, may make a verifiable consumer request related to your personal information. You may also make a verifiable consumer request on behalf of your minor child. Agents must submit proof that they have been authorized by the consumer to act on their behalf. Making a verifiable consumer request does not require you to create an account with us, however we encourage you to make request through your account if you have one. We will only use personal information provided in a verifiable consumer request to verify the requestor's identity or authority to make the request.

We verify requests by sending a confirmation email to the requestor and by matching the identifying information provided by the consumer to the personal information already maintained by us. We cannot respond to your request or provide you with personal information if we cannot: (i) verify your identity or authority to make the request; and (ii) confirm the personal information relates to you. If we are unable to verify the identity of a consumer to a enough degree of certainty, we will deny the request and explain the reason for the denial.

Exercising Access and Deletion Rights

To ensure the BAND member's right to access, we provide a feature to download the personal information registered in the BAND account and the content created by the member. You may request the feature by going to the BAND website > Help Center > Signup and Login > 'I want to download my personal information and my content history'. To exercise the right to access/delete under the CCPA, or send inquiries, please contact the Band Help Center.

You can also delete any contents that you create on our Services at any time by using deleting functions provided on our Services. When you choose to delete contents on our Services, the contents wil be immediately hidden from the Services. However, it can take up to 30 days to complete the deletion process in our systems, so your personal information included in the contents can be remaining in our servers for those 30 days.
