5. Sources from which we may collect data about you

In addition to the information that Kuku collects directly from you, we can also collect personal data about you from third parties. For example:

Directly from you: When you register with us, update your account or profile, purchase products or Services from us, correspond with us, or respond to our surveys, you may provide (and we will collect) the following information: personal details, payment details, purchase information, account/profile information, and communications.
Automatically when you use our Service: We automatically collect certain information in connection with your use of the Services including: account/profile information, purchase information, usage information, advertising information, device and network information, and communications.
Authentication partners: If you register for or log into Kuku Services using another account (such as your Google or Apple account) that service will send your name, email address and profile picture to us. This information helps create your account with us. You can control the personal data you allow us to have access to through the privacy settings on the respective third party service. Please note that we never store any passwords created for any third party services.
Information other Kuku users provide about you: We may receive information about you from our Users, including non-users. For example, our other Users can provide your name, phone number, email address through our comments section etc.
Third party service providers: We work with third party service providers to help us operate, provide, improve, understand, customize, support, and market our Services. This applies to processing activities such as mapping IP addresses to determine approximate location data (e.g., country or region, city, state), understanding how people use our Services, ensuring safety, security, and integrity and helping with customer service. These companies provide us with information about you in certain circumstances that help us diagnose and fix service issues or data about your app use.
Other third parties: We may supplement the profile information provided by you with other information and additional contact information that is publicly available or with information received from information providers which collect data from public registers, telecom operators in order to improve safety and quality of the content on our platform.

6. Third party services & disclosure

We do not sell, trade, rent or otherwise transfer to third parties, Your personal information.

We, however, do engage certain third party service providers, to provide certain services including but not limited to advertising, infrastructure and IT services, process payment transactions, etc. and such third parties may have access to your personal or non-personal information in the course of providing such services.

These trusted third-parties are bound by this Policy and are not authorized to use or disclose your personal information except in connection with providing their services. You must, at all times, comply with and be aware of the privacy policies of such third-parties.

We may share or disclose your information with our affiliates, group companies, trusted vendors, service providers, and other partners who support our business and Services, such as providing technical infrastructure services, bug testing, analyzing how our Services are used, etc. for the purposes specified in this Policy. We also reserve the right to share/transfer any information including personal information relating to the Users with another party in case of a merger, acquisition, amalgamation, or sale of all or part of Our assets to a third party.

Other than as set out in this Policy, we shall not share or disclose your personal information to third parties without obtaining your prior consent unless it is necessary for the purposes set out in this Policy or unless we are required to do so by law.

Additionally, We may disclose certain personal or non-personal information about a User as and when required for the purpose of any litigation, security, law enforcement and/or for enforcement of T&Cs.

The apps and website may contain links to third party websites that are not under our control. These websites may have their own policies regarding privacy. We have no control of or responsibility for such linked websites. You accessing such linked websites shall be at your own risk. These websites are not subject to this Policy. You should check the privacy policies, if any, of such third party websites to see how the operators of those third party websites will utilize your personal or non-personal information.

7. Retention of personal information

We will store your personal information only for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which the data is being processed. We have captured in detail the purposes and retention periods of various types of data in Clause 4.

The retention period depends on the purpose for which the data is being processed. Most of the time we retain it (i) until you delete it, (ii) after a specific period of time or (iii) until your Kuku account is deactivated and deleted.

We consider (i) the suitable storage period to fulfill our purposes, (ii) the period that our users expects us to retain their data, (iii) the time we need to keep the data to enforce our rules and keep our service secure, (iv) the legal or contractual obligation to retain or delete the data and (v) the period to keep our directory accurate and up to date as the criteria to determine retention periods.

After your Kuku account is deleted, your data is completely deleted from our systems. We retain certain data for a longer period of time, but for very limited purposes, for example if it is necessary to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim, e.g. if there is an on-going dispute or a crime has been reported to the police. We perform regular disposals and erase personal data that is no longer necessary to process.

8. Children's privacy

We do not permit children under the age of 18 years to make or hold Accounts with Kuku. Children under the age of majority may access our Services only through the accounts held by their parents / legal guardians who are over the age of 18 years. In this respect, we do not intentionally or knowingly collect or process information from children or allow such persons to register for our Services.
If we become aware that we have collected personal data about a child under the applicable age limit, we will take reasonable steps to delete the personal data. If you believe that we might have information from or about a child under the age of 18 years, please contact us at support@kukufm.com.

9. Your rights as a Kuku user

Right of users and non-users	Details	How to enforce
Right to be informed	You have the right to be informed of how we process your personal data. We achieve this through this privacy Policy, by service-specific FAQs, and by answering your questions through various communication channels.	Please read through this Policy or reach out to us.

Right of users and non-users	Details	How to enforce
Right to rectification	You have the right to request that we rectify inaccurate information or complete information about you that you consider is inaccurate or incomplete. Kuku provides you with the functionality to rectify your data through the settings of the application.	Please write to us directly if you wish to rectify/update/correct your data. We will update, edit your data in line with your request within a period of 7 days from the receipt of the request.
Right to erasure/account deletion	You may request that your personal information is erased from Kuku Services through the deletion of your Account. There are situations where we are unable to delete your data, for example, if (i) the data is still needed for Kuku's legal compliances, (ii) billing or payments data until your account is deleted (iii) information that may be needed to resolve any disputes. You may also delete your account with Kuku permanently.	To seek deletion of your account and associated data, please write to us directly at support@kukufm.com Once we receive your request for deletion, we will delete your data from our systems within 7 days from the receipt of the request.
Right to data portability	You may request to receive personal data provided by you in machine readable format.	Should you need this, write to us and we will share the same with you.
Right to object or withdraw your consent	Where we process your personal data based on your consent, you have the right to revoke that consent at any time. When you revoke your consent we will stop processing your data for such purposes. Withdrawing your consent will not affect the lawfulness of any processing we conducted prior to your withdrawal, nor will it affect processing of your personal information conducted in reliance on lawful processing grounds other than consent. You can also object to or request that we restrict processing of your personal information.	Please write to us for this.

10. Security measures

Kuku has taken appropriate technical and organizational security measures in order to protect your personal data / information against unlawful or accidental disclosure, use, access, destruction, alteration or harm. For example, all user data is stored in a database protected by firewall and access control so only authorized parties including Kuku employees and Kuku's third-party partners ("Authorized Parties") who need access to your personal data to perform specific tasks have such access.
We take all reasonable precautions to protect Your personal and non-personal information using industry standard technical and administrative security measures to reduce the risk of loss, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure or alteration. We store all Personal Information of Users on the cloud infrastructure offered by Amazon Web Services and Google Cloud Platform.

11. Cookies

Cookies are small data files that are commonly stored on your device when you access websites and online services.
If you use Kuku app/website on a mobile device, tablet, or streaming media device, we may collect a resettable device identifier from your device.
