You may opt out of receiving such communications at any time through the APP's "notification center." In-app notifications are only displayed when you are within the mobile application, while push notifications will be displayed when you are both inside and outside the mobile application. For this purpose, LALIGA will use your user/device ID to send you the notification. In this regard, we inform you that LALIGA uses technical providers to send push and in-app notifications.

The legal basis for the aforementioned purpose is that the processing is necessary for the satisfaction of LALIGA's legitimate interest under the provisions of Article 6.1 f) of the General Data Protection Regulation, consisting of achieving better use of LALIGA content through the use of the APP. In particular, LALIGA will carry out aggregate segmentations based on the aforementioned data, including:

- Segmentations based on favorite team (e.g., 20 users have selected club X as their favorite team).

In this regard, we inform you that LALIGA uses technical support providers to carry out internal reports.

The legal basis for the aforementioned purpose is that the processing is necessary for the satisfaction of LALIGA's legitimate interest pursuant to the provisions of Article 6.1 f) of the General Data Protection Regulation, consisting of extracting lessons from the information provided and obtained from users that allows it to improve the APP and optimize the communication campaigns it carries out based on the interest they generate among different user groups. Before doing so, we inform you that LALIGA has carried out a proportionality analysis between its legitimate interest and the rights and freedoms of its users. You can request the conclusions of this analysis by writing tolopd@laliga.es .

You have the right to object to the aforementioned purpose at any time in accordance with the procedure described in the section "What are your rights when you provide us with your personal data?"

Use of the identifier for advertisers ("IDFA") on iOS (Apple) devices

The use of IDFA for the purpose of "Internal Reports" requires the user's tracking permission within Apple's iOS operating system. If the user has not given their permission for the use of IDFA, LALIGA may carry out this purpose using the device's IDFV.

At any time, the user may accept or reject tracking permission in the iOS settings of the user's Apple device.

Additional purposes

/ LALIGA commercial communications: In order for LALIGA to send you commercial communications via email, push notifications, in-app or other instant messaging channels (e.g., SMS) about its activities (the competitions it organizes, campaigns, public viewings, shows, or live events), products (applications, web platforms, and games developed by LALIGA), services, contests, offers, raffles, and/or promotions specific to LALIGA, or contests, offers, raffles, and/or promotions carried out by LALIGA on products and services promoted jointly by LALIGA and its official sponsors, which you can consult here, collaborators, national federations, or national and international television networks.

For this purpose, LALIGA will only process your email address and, where applicable, your user ID or telephone number.

Likewise, we inform you that, in order to send you commercial communications via email, LALIGA uses a third-party provider service (salesforce.com EMEA Limited) that involves international transfer to the United States, a country that guarantees a level of protection equivalent to that of the European Union for personal data transferred from Europe to third-party providers in the United States that are adherents to the Data Privacy Framework, including said provider.

To send commercial communications via push and in-app notifications, LALIGA uses a third-party provider (Pushologies) that involves international transfer to the Isle of Man, a country that guarantees a level of protection equivalent to that of the European Union.

Finally, LALIGA also uses the consulting and technical support services of other providers for sending commercial communications.

The legal basis for processing your data for the aforementioned purpose is the consent you have given us to process your data for the specific purposes selected in accordance with the provisions of Article 6.1 a) of the General Data Protection Regulation. Your personal data will be kept for this purpose until you revoke your consent.

You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time in accordance with the procedure described in the section "What are your rights when you provide us with your personal data?", without this affecting the lawfulness of the processing based on consent prior to its withdrawal.

/ Preparation of simple segmentations: So that LALIGA can send you segmented commercial communications via email or other instant messaging channels about LALIGA products and services. These communications will be based on the information you have provided us with through the registration form or through your MyAccount profile (for example, we will send you communications about products that may be of interest to you based on your age, favorite team, or province of residence).

The information used to create segments will only be that declared by the interested party in any of the assets that make up LALIGA Ecosystem (for example, gender, country, city, age, and favorite team or sport), with a low level of detail about the user's profile and without using information inferred from the interested party or from third-party sources, with segmentation being, in any case, not very exhaustive. In this way, commercial communications can be sent based on the simple segments created with the aforementioned information, avoiding sending content that is not relevant to you.

In this regard, we inform you that LALIGA uses consulting and technical support providers to carry out simple user segmentation.

The legal basis for the aforementioned purpose is that the processing is necessary for the satisfaction of LALIGA's legitimate interest pursuant to the provisions of Article 6.1 f) of the General Data Protection Regulation, consisting of making effective use of the personal data provided by the user to achieve greater interest and return on the communications sent. Before doing so, we inform you that LALIGA has carried out a proportionality analysis between its legitimate interest and the rights and freedoms of its users, the conclusions of which can be requested atlopd@laliga.es .

You have the right to object to the aforementioned purpose at any time in accordance with the procedure described in the section "What are your rights when you provide us with your personal data?".

Under no circumstances will the profiling carried out by LALIGA produce legal effects or significantly affect you in a similar way.

/ Comprehensive profiling: If you give us your permission, LALIGA will create a comprehensive profile of you to improve its marketing campaigns, offering you personalized advertising, information, services, and products by sending you personalized marketing communications via email or other instant messaging channels, sending you personalized push or in-app notifications (provided you have given your consent for the purpose of "LALIGA commercial communications") or showing you banners with personalized advertising on websites, applications, or social networks about LALIGA products and services (for example, if we identify that you are a fan of a specific club, we will offer you personalized incentives, such as a jersey of your favorite team). Specifically, within the APP, we may offer you personalized videos based on your tastes and preferences based on the time you have spent viewing certain content within the APP.

In this way, the information mentioned above will be directed to segments (groups of users created based on the information obtained from them or your use of the APP or other LALIGA Ecosystem assets) that we can compile based on the following data sources:

- The information you provide us directly during the registration process or through your MyAccount profile (in this case, country, language, favorite team);
- Social login (in this case, first and last name, email address, birthday, gender, city and state of residence, interest categories, as well as inferred values—engagement, social, promotion, and fan value—obtained from posts on your Facebook timeline and page likes);
- Interactions with communications or notifications you receive (e.g., clicking on the content of a communication);
- Data inferred as a result of use and activity on the Platform (device ID, registered user ID, device model, operating system, and telemetry, for example, clicking on certain content or the time you spend on the asset or viewing specific content).

In addition, LALIGA will generate these segments taking into account the following profiling techniques:

- Measuring individual campaign performance: LALIGA will use information relating to open rates, average click-through rates, email bounces, and unsubscribe rates to measure campaign performance on an individual level. and, as a result, perform segmentation based on the information inferred about you and other information provided, in order to target you again with certain campaigns that are more relevant to you or to include you only in those in which you have shown the most interest (for example, if you are a very active user in certain communications, we may send you communications of the same type more frequently). For these purposes, we inform you that through the data management tools provided by the social networks on which LALIGA has an account, user audiences will be created that may be shared, within each social network and in encrypted form, with third parties outside LALIGA, so that they can create their advertising campaigns within the social network itself.
- Campaign optimization: we will exclude you from advertising campaigns for sweepstakes in which you have participated, applications you have registered for or downloaded, products you have purchased, or services you have previously acquired (for example, we will avoid offering you a LALIGA app if we know you have previously downloaded it). To do this, we will cross-reference your information with that obtained from other LALIGA assets that you use.
- Personalized content: we will show you content tailored to your tastes and preferences based on the number of views you make of the videos contained in the APP and the viewing time of the same.
- Users with similar tastes and preferences: thanks to the profile that LALIGA creates for you, we can send you personalized content taking into account other profiles similar to yours (for example, if we identify that other users similar to you like eSports, we will show you advertising related to eSports).

- User rating: LALIGA will obtain an unknown variable from known variables provided or inferred from you so that it can carry out an analysis of its users with the aim of identifying those most likely to use or purchase LALIGA products and, where appropriate, offer you LALIGA products and services.

- Retargeting: if you have interacted with LALIGA without registering or without using or downloading the corresponding LALIGA asset , LALIGA may use the identifying data of your device and/or your email address to show you advertising in other environments outside LALIGA in order to achieve the interaction desired by LALIGA.

The legal basis for the processing of your data for the aforementioned purpose is the consent you have given us to process your data for the specific purposes selected in accordance with the provisions of Article 6.1 a) of the General Data Protection Regulation. Your personal data will be kept for this purpose until you revoke your consent.

You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time in accordance with the procedure described in the section "What are your rights when you provide us with your personal data?", without this affecting the lawfulness of the processing based on consent prior to its withdrawal.

In this regard, we inform you that LALIGA uses consulting and technical support providers to carry out complex profiling.

Under no circumstances will the profiling carried out by LALIGA produce legal effects or significantly affect you in a similar way.
